

Who we are

DayLife LLC is a small recently certified HUBZone company that provides professional services to help our federal and other partners and customers manage operational and R&D activities.

Previously focused on investments, DayLife LLC is launching a Program Management Services division to assist our partners and customers to meet their needs in both program management support and R&D support and to meet their subcontracting goals for competitive federal procurements.

We aim to continuously improve our partners' and clients' stakeholder performance and results through strategic approaches, accelerated innovation, and streamlined processes and operations. Our professionals have the expertise, ability, and extensive experience advising leading global clients and delivering sustainable solutions.

Our senior core team of experts has advised global clients and implemented programs in approximately 100 countries in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, the Near East, North America, and Oceania.
